TGIM WEEKLY AUDIO: Make Your Life Boil

Transcription*

Thank God It's Monday!™ Water begins to boil at 212 degrees. Meaning, at 211 degrees the water is really hot. But one degree, one single degree, marks this momentous distinction.

Imagine for a second that you'd never seen water boil. Would you suspect this feat to be possible? If you'd never experienced boiling, how would you imagine the concept of boiling?

Take this model and apply it in your own life. Perhaps you need just one degree more, and then you'll boil with success! Imagine that. Where are the sources of heat in your life that you haven't tapped into? How can you push through just one small degree to bring your life to a state of boiling and making things happen?

Have a great Monday!
